

Peace Memorial Sabana

The Peace Memorial served as a command post for the Japanese Imperial Military at the onset of World War II. In 1973, a monument was constructed as a gesture of goodwill between the people of Rota and Japan. It is dedicated to and memorializes the Japanese Nationals who lost their lives due to the atrocities of World War II.